ABOUT BOROSIL

Borosil is all about glass...founded in collaboration with Corning Glass Works in 1962, they are pioneers in the glassware industry and India's leading specialty glassware brand. They're also known internationally for their scientific lab ware and solar glass.

Borosil embodies over 50 years of dependability and durability and the iconic Vision Glass line that you see here has remained unchanged since their founding moment.

BOROSIL IS GREEN

Integrating green solutions into their manufacturing practices, Borosil has one of India's largest solar rooftop installations which generates power for their manufacturing plant. Borosil has been harvesting rain water since 2003 and 48% of all electricity they consume comes from wind energy. Borosil is also the recipient of India's National Energy Conservation Award.

OUR STORY

We discovered our first Borosil glass at a remote, roadside tea stop in Rajasthan. We were instantly captivated by its simple, elegant and lightweight design and the way it felt in our hands when we picked it up. It was clear that this was a glass worth bringing home so we filled our suitcases with as much as we could carry.

Once we learned of its unique properties we knew we had to find a way to make this glassware available in the states. We spent the next year working with Borosil to bring their consumer line to the US for the first time. Our journey has now come full circle as we proudly offer Borosil glassware to you.
