Sustainability

At Royal Selangor, we have a long-term view and commitment to sustainability. As we preserve our more than 100 years of legacy, we are equally conscious of the importance of preserving artisanal skills, minimising our impact on the environment, and supporting our local communities.

Acting on Climate Change

All of our pewterware, in addition to silverware and gold pieces by Comyns and Selberan, associate companies of Royal Selangor, have been produced at our current production facility since 1976.

For a long period of time, molten pewter, gold and silver were cast from diesel-fired cauldrons, the first step in crafting every piece that will eventually make their way into living spaces and celebrations around the world. Five years ago, the cauldrons were converted into the ones powered by electricity, a cleaner energy source.

Efforts at enhancing the environmental sustainability of the business continued as we began to look into ways and means of reducing electrical consumption and increasing our use of renewable energy sources. Bolstering the company's endeavours was the government's revision of its renewable energy target to 20% by 2025 and the introduction of the improved Net Energy Metering scheme. Under this scheme, we are able to export the excess solar PV generated energy back to the national grid. Consequently, solar power became an increasingly attractive source of green energy.

Rows of solar panels in neat grids now cover the roofs of our factory and offices, including the Royal Selangor Visitor Centre. Every day, they generate 870 kilowatts of energy that powers manufacturing and visitor centre operations.

Sourcing Responsibly

Responsibly Sourced Tin

Our main material is pewter, and pewter is a tin alloy (over 90% of the alloy is tin). We source our tin exclusively from Malaysia Smelting Corporation Bhd. (MSC), which is listed as a conformant smelter by the Responsible Minerals Initiative (RMI). Visit <http://www.responsiblemineralsinitiative.org/responsible-minerals-assurance-process/smelter-refiner-lists/tungsten-smelters-list/conformant-tin-smelters/> for more information

Responsible Minerals Initiative (RMI) was previously known as the Conflict-Free Sourcing Initiative. The Responsible Minerals Assurance Process (RMAP) was previously known as the Conflict-Free Smelter Program (CFSP). The shift to RMI happened in 2018 to align with OECD standards.

"The flagship program of the RMI, the Responsible Minerals Assurance Process (RMAP) takes a unique approach to helping companies make informed choices about responsibly sourced minerals in their supply chains. Focusing on a "pinch point" (a point with relatively few actors) in the global metals supply chain, the RMAP uses an independent third-party assessment of smelter/refinery management systems and sourcing practices to validate conformance with RMAP standards. The assessment employs a risk-based approach to validate smelters' company-level management processes for responsible mineral procurement. The RMAP standards are developed to meet the requirements of the OECD Due Diligence Guidance, the Regulation (EU) 2017/821 of the European Parliament and the U.S. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act." from <http://www.responsiblemineralsinitiative.org/responsible-minerals-assurance-process>.

Responsibly Sourced Wood

We also work with wood. We started with a selection of products with wooden components which are produced in compliance with sustainability requirements under Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification (PEFC).

PEFC: The Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification (PEFC) is an international non-profit, non-governmental organization dedicated to promoting Sustainable Forest Management through independent third-party certification.

PEFC works to ensure that timber and non-timber forest products are produced with respect for the highest ecological, social and ethical standards. Customers will then be able to identify products from sustainably managed forests.

The PEFC Chain of Custody Certification is a mechanism for tracking certified material from the forest to the final product to ensure that the wood, wood fibre or non-wood forest produce contained in the product or product line can be traced back to certified forests.

We have successfully obtained the Chain of Custody Certification under the Malaysian Timber Certification Scheme (MTCS). The MTCS is a national timber certification scheme for sustainability developed and operated by the Malaysian Timber Certification Council.

Reducing Environmental Impact

All Royal Selangor products are designed to last and be passed down from one generation to another. We consider the whole lifespan of the product. Environmental impact is a factor which is carefully considered in all decision making when planning a new product. Our efforts at the different stages can be summarised as:

Eco-Friendly Packaging

The best example of our efforts to help the environment post-consumer is the current change in packaging. We are implementing a massive design change to work towards a goal of zero non-biodegradable content in our packaging. Eliminating plastic foam is the obvious environmental advantage, but also adapting a flat pack box format also helps with reducing transport emissions when we get our boxes from the supplier as we can fit multiple more boxes in a single delivery.

Reuse and Recycle

We look to our old inventory before sourcing for new components when creating new products. Modern prototyping is a lot eco-friendlier and pewter has the added advantage that we can melt down our old prototypes and use the material to make new ones.

Pewter shavings, discontinued items, items which do not meet quality standards and cannot be repaired are melted and re-used to make new products. Old moulds have been used to create sculptural artwork at the Royal Selangor Visitor Centre.

Locally Sourced

We try wherever possible to source local and ethical components and raw materials. Examples of this include getting all our ceramics parts sourced locally to avoid the impact of transport from overseas.

Client Care & Repair Service

Our client care & repair service ensure that our products can last a lifetime and even passed from generation to generation.

Community Minded

Royal Selangor maintains special ties with the local communities whether it is in the form of support or employment.

Raising Funds for Non-Profit Organisations

We have partnered with a number of non-profit organisations with the aims to raise funds for good causes. Our Nick Munro jelly mould and Pink pendants were specially designed to create awareness and raise funds for Breast Cancer Welfare Association Malaysia, while Mia collection, a collaboration with Malaysia's contemporary artists, was created in aid of Badan Warisan Malaysia (The Heritage of Malaysia Trust).

Developing Skills

We have a responsibility to preserve and impart the knowledge and craftsmanship that Royal Selangor has mastered since its founding in 1885. Royal Selangor's production facility in Malaysia is staffed by almost 100% locals, showing our commitment to developing a skilled team of artisans over the long term.

Preserving our time-honoured craftsmanship is essential to the enduring success of Royal Selangor. We make sure that our workplace allows and encourages every one of our employees to develop their skills in the best possible conditions, ensuring the honing and transmission of Royal Selangor's unique craftsmanship.

Training Future Talents with Local Organisations

A tuition-free apprenticeship programme in partnership with vocational schools – our factory promotes, transmits, and develops skills in both the artisanal crafts, as well as the administration and creative professions.

Preserving Royal Selangor's Heritage

We preserve and share our history through free access to the Royal Selangor Visitor Centre, Kuala Lumpur. At the centre, visitors can learn about the history of Kuala Lumpur's tin mining heritage and Royal Selangor's contribution in the development of the tin industry. The Royal Selangor Visitor Centre also offers live pewtersmithing demonstration and pewter crafting workshops; the School of Hard Knocks and The Foundry.

Origins

The story of Royal Selangor goes back to 1885 when a young pewtersmith named Yong Koon sailed from the port of Shantou to Kuala Lumpur, a town then located in the tin rich state of Selangor. The discovery of tin in Malaya had lured him and thousands of other Chinese to the fledgling tin mining town, where he joined his brothers who had established themselves as tinsmiths.

In early years, Yong Koon made pewter incense burners, joss stick holders and candlestands for the altars of wealthy tin miners and Chinese temples. When demand for traditional ceremonial pewterware declined, Yong Koon and his sons started making European style products for the British and other expatriates under the brand of Selangor Pewter. This was an important turning point for the business and laid the foundation for an export market.

In 1979, the company received a royal warrant from the Sultan of Selangor. To reflect the royal endorsement and diverse nature of the company, Selangor Pewter changed its name to Royal Selangor in 1992.

The tradition of craftsmanship continues through its workforce of 250 craftspeople based at its factory in Setapak, Kuala Lumpur.

Pewter

Royal Selangor pewter consists of as much as 97% high quality tin, with a small proportion of copper and antimony added to strengthen the alloy. All Royal Selangor pewter is lead-free and food safe.

Pewter's unique characteristics, its low melting point and relative softness, make it ideal for craftsmen and designers to work with. Loved for its versatility and feel, it can be fashioned in a variety of finishes – a traditional soft satin lustre, a dazzling brilliance that rivals silver or a subdued 'antique' finish.

Royal Selangor produces high quality cast pewter, which is heavier and stronger than spun pewter. When struck gently, it produces a resonant sound.

Craftsmanship

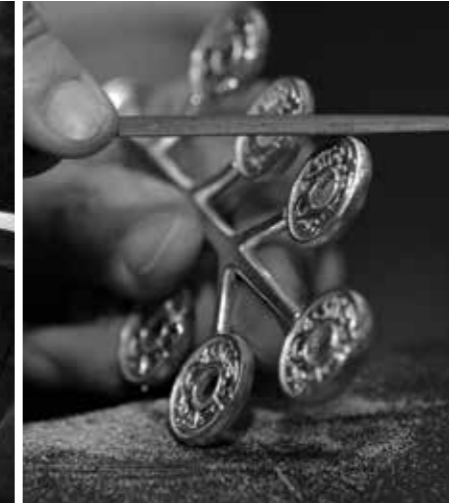

Time-honoured techniques of creating handcrafted objects.

With over 250 skilled craftspeople and a 40-strong in-house design team, we have expanded the uses of pewter, exploring its many possibilities from children's gifts, wine accoutrements to personal accessories.

Casting

The design of the piece is reproduced in pewter.

Filing

Excess pewter and parting lines are removed to reveal fine detail.

Scotching

The surface undergoes scotching to achieve a smooth sheen.

Hammering

Flat pewter sheets acquire a rich dimpled texture using this traditional method.

Machine Polishing

The piece undergoes meticulous hand-guided machine polishing.

Buffing

A bright finish is achieved when the piece goes through hand-guided machine buffing.

Soldering

Requisite parts are soldered together, a process that requires speed and precision.

Hand Polishing

Fine corners and edges are carefully hand polished, leaving a perfect finish.

Engraving

Personalise the piece with a special hand engraved message.

In repurposing European ornament from the late Middle Ages to the cusp of Neoclassicism, Chateau's bold use of scale, in an array of essentials for entertaining, is a nod to the Hollywood Regency design style of the movie capital's golden age; at once comfortably traditional, yet stylishly modern, and always glamorous.

Champagne; elegant, serene, refined, yet ebullient, indulgent, and giddy, a requisite at soirée as much as it is at shindig. With its sweeping lines, voluptuous curves and dazzling surfaces, Domaine reflects this versatile duality, proffering this most aristocratic of libations with consummate ease at any occasion.

"If you go down in the woods today, you're sure of a big surprise. If you go down in the woods today, you'd better go in disguise." Since the turn of the 20th century, 'The Teddy Bears' Picnic' has been one of the world's most beloved children's songs. Just as enduring is the appeal of our Teddy Bears' Picnic collection of christening gifts.

Spinning a tale of teddy bears gathering for a day of fun, food and games, hidden away in the woods, the tune's lyrics come to life in wonderfully sculpted keepsakes.

"For every bear that ever there was will gather there for certain because today's the day the teddy bears have their picnic."

Speaks Volumes

Phonos amplifies the sound of your mobile phone via a high-style combination of warm wood and richly-textured pewter. Designed to allow charging whilst in use, inserting your mobile phone vertically into the wood dock makes Phonos the ideal way to handle calls in speaker mode, video conference or listen to music.

Fits most standard charging cables, and most mobile phones up to 1cm thick.

Royal Selangor's collaborative offering with the British Museum draws on the public institution's spectacular collection of some 8 million artefacts. Amongst the largest and most comprehensive in existence, the collection covers every continent, documenting the story of human culture from its beginnings to the present.

Founded in 1753, the British Museum was the first national public museum in the world. From the outset it was a museum of the world, for the world, and this idea still lies at the heart of the Museum's mission today. The Museum's collection tells the stories of cultures across the world, from the dawn of human history, over two million years ago, to the present.
